Form is posted correctly : Bug is because opera is not passing incoming data from form dump to new tab - it works when target="_blank" removed. Its is consideder a browser bug and it will not be an issue when a dedicated backend server is in place to handle form receipt instead of temporary code institue form dump. target="_blank" will not be used with the dedicated process as the webpage will handle the incoming server data and there will be no opening of a new tab or passing of data to a new tab so the bug will not present itself	Release with issue	User base small percenta ge	Low priority	Current
